Do you need your daily glass of milk and would also really like to know where it comes from? – Are you an environmentally-aware animal lover looking for an ecological and fair alternative to cow's milk? – Or do you simply want a real girlfriend and practical playmate to cuddle and fool around with?

Then bring home Happy HuCow Heidi today!

My Happy HuCow® ("Heidi" model) is THE product innovation by the royal Bavarian breastmilk factory of AVENGING ANIMALS the vegan brand mark: happy new mothers with bulging mammaries freely leave us their newborn babies for further processing so that they can be there just for you as a "human cow" and produce milk.

You can either buy your Happy HuCow Heidi as a complete set and use as the mood takes you, or simply hire and milk her for as long as she produces milk. In both cases, it is important from the outset to regularly pump everything out daily – by hand or using the accompanying automatic milking machine!

NOTE: Please be aware that the milk flow naturally decreases over time! In this case the hire contract will automatically end and the human cow will be taken back without complaint. If you have decided to purchase, we offer an impregnation service for a small charge so that your usual quality and amount of milk will flow again. Of course, if you prefer you can impregnate your Happy HuCow Heidi yourself, and so enjoy all the other advantages of our products... We'll either buy the milk by-product ("baby") from you (the purchase price varies according to sex and state of health) or you can use your female offspring to start breeding your own Happy HuCows! Every My Happy HuCow® owner is naturally also permitted to slaughter his discarded model at any time or otherwise dispose of it.

Have fun and enjoy this unique product!

TIP: For enthusiastic My Happy HuCow® owners and friends AVENGING ANIMALS has also developed an exclusive MOO-Collection – produced under fair conditions and printed on 100 % organic cotton.

Say MOO if you like Heidi too! :-)
